

INTERAGENCY COLLABORATION AWARD AWARDEE

Sarah Carrino
Federal Emergency Management
Agency

Sarah Carrino is the Unified Federal Review (UFR) Coordinator for Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Region 6. She holds her Bachelor of Science in Sociology from Oklahoma State University, and Master of Science in Environmental Policy and Management from the University of Denver. She has been with the agency for 10 years, operating in various Environmental Specialist capacities throughout her tenure. Currently, she is responsible for promoting and developing a unified environmental and historic preservation (EHP) review process for federally funded disaster recovery projects occurring within FEMA Region 6.